What is G5 Business Landscape?

G5 Business Landscape database provides relevant postal code level data for customer centric marketing initiatives. For example, analyzing whether opening a franchise for a particular type of fast food restaurant, in a given neighbourhood, is profitable. This database has four components:

- Daytime Population
- Occupations
- Establishment Details by Industry Sector
- Industry Sectors

Marketers and business/location analysts know that the population in industrial and residential areas changes dramatically between the daytime and evening hours. The Daytime Population component is a database of demographic variables that estimates the population present during normal business (daytime) hours.

Knowing what Occupations dominate the area marketers and analysts are analyzing is critical to ensure your business meets the needs of the population, daytime and nighttime. For retailers, restaurateurs, packaged goods companies testing new products, or service providers considering a new location, the market activity of the population can make or break a venture.

Divided into 24 distinct industry sectors based on the North American Industry Classification System<sup>1</sup> (NAICS 2002), this section, Establishment Details by Industry Sector, provides a comprehensive look of key metrics - including counts of establishments by industry, aggregate employment and aggregate revenue for all establishments – available at all levels – from the National level to a single postal code.

The Industry Sector section breaks these 24 industry sectors to a granular level to reflect industries, such as “high tech” developments, for example, wired telecommunications carriers, satellite communications, and the reproduction of computer software. As well as recognizing the less technological changes in the way business is done: bed and breakfast inns, environmental consulting, warehouse clubs, pet supply stores, credit card issuing, fitness and recreational sports centres.

Applications

G5 Business Landscape database allows:

- Marketers to gain insight into the nature of commercial activity in a given set of postal codes, including: the number of businesses, the number of employees, sales, and employee profession/occupation category.
- Marketers will be able to study commercial activity in any given geography (e.g. existing or potential trade areas).
- Analysts from the Financial (banking & insurance), Consumer Packaged Goods, and Retail industries will be able to create detailed consumer profiles and provide factual information to help guide marketing initiatives (acquisition, retention, stimulation, and optimization).

Methodology

Constructed by applying Generation 5's Mathematical Technologies™, Generation 5's G5 Business Landscape micro marketing database provides unprecedented refinement in demographic and socio-economic data. G5 Business Landscape is comprised of variables modeled at the postal code level.

Generation 5 performs a set of complex calculations based on several integrated data inputs, and on derived geographic linkages, in order to model variables at the postal code level. The advanced mathematical technology applied to create G5 Business Landscape involves techniques employing the theory of machine learning using several integrated data inputs as a training set. In particular, a scenario based, non-parametric, non-linear approach is adopted. G5 Business Landscape is produced using a sophisticated set of proprietary data-mining technologies, including a feature-selection/data-reduction module (VIVA) and a prediction/classification module (MWM).

Generation 5's innovative Feature Selection methodology automatically selects the most relevant features (independent variables), eliminates erroneous and redundant features and significantly improves the accuracy of subsequent prediction algorithms.

Generation 5's proprietary prediction methodologies are sophisticated algorithms that generate estimates for a target (dependent) variable based on a historical record, and a set of independent variables.

About Generation 5

Generation5 builds effective consumer marketing solutions for some of North America's largest organizations and most recognized brands. Generation5's suite of products and services include enterprise-wide analytical projects for F500 customers, data mining software development, data production and Automated Analytical Outsource Services for organizations seeking fast solutions to recurring challenges.

Generation5 solutions are ideal for companies seeking an effective, measurable competitive advantage in consumer marketing. Generation5 software, analytics and databases are developed in its Research and Development Laboratory by a team of scientists, Ph.D-level experts in artificial intelligence, mathematics, operational research, software engineering and statistics. The recently launched Generation5 consulting practice helps customers plan, deploy and measure initiatives, ensuring maximum return from their investment in marketing analytics.
